About Women With Disabilities Australia (WWDA)

Women With Disabilities Australia (WWDA) is the peak non-government organisation (NGO) for women with all types of disabilities in Australia. WWDA is run by women with disabilities, for women with disabilities, and represents more than 2 million disabled women in Australia. WWDA is a national voice for the needs and rights of women with disabilities and a national force to improve the lives and life chances of women with disabilities. It is the only organisation of its kind in Australia and one of only a very small number internationally. WWDA's work is grounded in a rights based framework which links gender and disability issues to a full range of civil, political, economic, social and cultural rights. The objectives of WWDA are:

- To actively promote the participation of women with disabilities in all aspects of social, economic, political and cultural life;
- To advocate on issues of concern to women with disabilities in Australia; and
- To seek to be the national representative organisation for women with disabilities in Australia by: undertaking systematic advocacy; providing policy advice; undertaking research; and providing information and education.
